4.1 Introduction

4.1.1 General Policy

This section covers all parts of the paper Medicaid remittance advice (RA) issued by the Department of Health and Welfare (DHW) for services offered by Medicaid. It addresses the following:

- Banner page.
- Pharmacy claims.
- Financial items.
- Earnings data.

The paper remittance and status report, or remittance advice (RA), is a computer-generated notice sent to all Medicaid providers who have claims in the Medicaid system. Providers may elect to receive RAs electronically. See Section 4.1.3 Receiving Electronic RAs, for information on how to sign up to receive electronic RAs. The paper RA shows providers the status of all their claims based on the system's most recent processing cycle. It also shows the breakdown of payment.

If a provider renders two clearly different types of service, he or she will be issued more than one provider number. If a provider has more than one unique provider number under which they are billing, the provider will receive more than one RA, one for each billing number. The RA is designed to simplify the provider's accounting and allows accurate reconciliation of Medicaid claims.

Remittance advices are produced weekly during the weekly claims cycle. All claims received and keyed into the system appear on the submitting provider's RA. If a claim was received late in the week and not entered into the system before the payment cycle or if the provider number is invalid, it does not appear on the RA.

Remittance advices are created only for providers who have claims or financial activity during the week. Providers must maintain a copy of their RAs for a minimum of five years.

4.1.2 Claim Status

Claims and adjustments will be completely processed in the Medicaid system. If a claim is submitted with multiple lines and some lines are paid and some are denied, the claim will be listed in the paid section. The claim is reported in the paid section because the provider received payment for a portion of the claim. The denied lines will have up to ten of the explanation of benefit codes listed at header and up to ten at the detail line, explaining why the detail line denied. All processed or in-process claims are placed into one of five categories within the section:

- Paid claims, or claims that have finalized but have no actual reimbursement because other insurance or Medicare reimbursed more than Medicaid allows.
- Denied claims - Claims which payment has been disallowed.
- Pending claims - Claims which must be reviewed and resolved before they reach a paid or denied status. Pending claims will be displayed on the paper RA until resolved. (Pending claims will NOT appear on the electronic remittance advice (ERA).)
- Adjusted claims - Claims where an error in billing or processing was made when the original claim was paid, resulting in an overpayment or underpayment of the claim.
- Remaining balance of previous adjustments - Recoupment of an overpayment of a claim which was greater than the scheduled payment for the provider in the processing cycle. Therefore, recoupment of all or part of the overpayment.

Additionally, the RA includes sections concerning:

- Paid case maintenance fee claims and paid capitation claims.
- Financial items - provider financial transactions that are not tied to a particular claim.

- Earnings data - details the amount of money that had been paid to the provider.

Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHC) can submit Institutional/UB-04, professional, and pharmacy claims under the same provider number. The claim information is listed in the proper claims section and a financial items and earnings section is created for each claim type.

Providers who do not wish to have pending claims printed on their RA may request the removal of that section. This request should be made in writing to EDS provider enrollment.

4.1.3 Receiving Electronic RAs

Providers may receive RAs electronically, on paper, or both. The electronic remittance advice (ERA) is sent in the 835 ANSI X12 format. (Electronic RAs will not contain the banner information or the pending claim information.)

Providers who wish to receive RAs electronically must purchase their own software. Some vendor software may be able to accept the HIPAA formatted ERA. Please check with your software vendor for more information.

Note: The EDS software is only for the submission of claims or for checking eligibility of a participant, and cannot be used to receive ERAs.

For additional information regarding ERAs or to sign up to receive ERAs, contact an EDS technical support representative at:

Monday through Friday (excluding state holidays) from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. MT.

4.1.4 Internal Control Number (ICN)

An Internal Control Number (ICN) is a unique number assigned to all claims and identifies the claim on the provider's remittance advice (RA). The ICN is in an RRCCYYJJBBBSSS format. This is a series of fields which, when read together, identify each specific claim received. The following key explains the ICN:

- RR: The medium in which the claim was received: 10 or 11 = paper; 40 = electronic (ECS); 41 = tape crossover; 43 = point of service
- CC: The century in which the claim was received
- YY: The year in which the claim was received
- JJJ: The Julian calendar date on which the claim was received (January 1 is 001, January 2 is 002, etc.)
- BBB: The batch number assigned to each group of claims being processed. A range of batch numbers is assigned to each claim type for ease in identifying the claim type without having the actual claim. This can range from 001 - 899
- SSS: The sequence of each claim within a batch. This can be from 000 – 999. (The first claim in the batch is 000.)

Example: The ICN 402002328252047 represents that the claim was submitted electronically; it was received on November 24, 2002 (the 328th day of the year 2002); it was the 48th claim in a batch with 252 claims.

4.2 Banner Page on the Paper RA

4.2.1 Overview

The RA banner section is the first page of the paper RA report. This page displays messages from DHW regarding policy information and general notices. Up to 20 messages may be displayed per week.

A paper banner page is also created for providers who receive remittance advices only in the electronic format. This page is mailed weekly so all providers receive DHW notices.

4.3 Pharmacy Paid Claim Paper RAs

4.3.1 Overview

The pharmacy paid claims RA section contains information about paid pharmacy claims. Up to ten Explanation of Benefit (EOB) codes (six ARC codes on the ERA) may be listed for the claim header and each detail line. The following is a description of each field on the paper RA.

4.3.2 Field Descriptions for the Paper RA

Field	Description
PROV	This field indicates the unique number of the provider who is receiving the RA. The provider number consists of two parts. The first 7-digits are the actual unique number assigned to a provider. The last 2-digits indicate the service location. For example, if a provider has two office locations, the primary office location will have 00 as the last 2-digits, and the second location will have 01 as the last 2-digits.
NPI	National Provider Identifier
RA NUM	This field indicates the number of the RA for the provider for the current financial cycle.
RA TITLE	This field indicates the type of RA generated (e.g. Pharmacy).
SEQ NO	This field indicates the RA sequence number for the provider. This field increases by one each time a provider receives an RA. The sequence number is reset at the beginning of each calendar year.
RA DATE	This field indicates the date the RA was generated. This date is typically the Monday following the financial cycle and is equal to the check issue date.
PAGE NUM	The sequence number of this page of the report when compared to the total number of pages for this report.
CLAIM TYPE	This field indicates the claim type description for claims located in this section of the RA.
CLIENT NAME	This group of two fields indicates the first five characters of the participant's last name and the first three characters of the participant's first name.
MID	This field indicates the participant's unique Medicaid identification (MID) number as it appears on the claim.
NPI	National Provider Identifier
ICN	This field indicates the unique Internal Control Number (ICN) assigned to the claim.
HVER	The header version number corresponds to the ICN and indicates the version of the claim. The original header has a version number of 00. Subsequent version numbers are the result of adjustments made to the header and appear in the adjustment section of the RA.
PT ACCT/RX#	This field indicates the patient account number or the prescription number that appears on the claim. The patient account number is not applicable for pharmacy claims.
HEADER MESSAGES	These ten fields relate to the message codes printed under the header information. These numbers are EOB codes and indicate the reasons for payment or denial of the claim. The definitions of these codes are listed on the last page of the RA.
DNUM	The detail number corresponds to the ICN and indicates the detail of the claim.
FDOS	This field indicates the first date the service was rendered as it appears on the claim.
TDOS	This field indicates the last date the service was rendered.
NDC	These fields represent the National Drug Code (NDC) of the drug billed on the claim. The code is made up of three sections: the manufacturer code, drug code, and package size.
RFL	This field indicates the refill number of the drug dispensed as billed on the claim form. The number of refills may vary from zero to five for Medicaid reimbursement.
QTY BLD	This field indicates the units of the drug as billed on the claim.
BILLED AMT	This field indicates the billed amount by the provider for service.

4.5 Pharmacy Pending Claim Paper RA

4.5.1 Overview

The pharmacy pending claim RA section contains information about pending pharmacy claims and adjustments. Up to ten Explanation of Benefit (EOB) codes may be listed for the claim. The EOB codes indicated for pended claims are general in nature and do not address specific problems with the claims. Only the billed amount field will be displayed on the RA. All other amount fields will be blank.

The following is a description of each field on the paper RA.

4.5.2 Field Descriptions for the Paper RA

Field	Description
PROV	This field indicates the unique number of the provider who is receiving the RA. The provider number consists of two parts. The first 7-digits are the actual unique number assigned to a provider. The last 2-digits indicate the service location. For example, if a provider has two office locations, the primary office location will have 00 as the last 2-digits, and the second location will have 01 as the last 2-digits.
NPI	National Provider Identifier
RA NUM	This field indicates the number of the RA for the provider for the current financial cycle.
RA TITLE	This field indicates the type of RA generated (e.g. Pharmacy).
SEQ NO	This field indicates the RA sequence number for the provider. This field increases by one each time a provider receives an RA. The sequence number is reset at the beginning of each calendar year.

4.6 Pharmacy Adjusted Claim on a Paper RA

4.6.1 Overview

The pharmacy adjusted claims RA section contains information about adjusted pharmacy claims. Up to ten Explanation of Benefit (EOB) codes (six ARC codes on the ERA) may be listed for the claim header and each detail line. On the paper RA for each adjusted claim, the RA first displays the original claim payment information then displays the adjusted claim payment information immediately following the original. The original paid amount, current new paid amount, refund from provider amount, net adjustment amount and a description of the adjustment reason code is indicated after each adjusted claim. If the net adjustment amount is a negative amount the number will be printed with a minus sign (-). On the electronic remittance advice (ERA) this grouping will not occur.

Claim voids and claim replacements (electronic equivalent of the paper adjustment process) will occur in their own sections. Adjustments may be initiated 1) by providers to correct claims submission or processing errors, or 2) by EDS to recoup incorrect payments. DHW may initiate adjustments for recoupments or retroactive rate adjustments. Following is a description of each field on the paper RA.

4.6.2 Field Descriptions for the Paper RA

Field	Description
PROV	This field indicates the unique number of the provider who is receiving the RA. The provider number consists of two parts. The first 7-digits are the actual unique number assigned to a provider. 4.7 Pharmacy Previously Adjusted Claims

4.7.1 Overview

The pharmacy previous adjusted claims RA section contains information regarding previously adjusted pharmacy claims with outstanding balances. Up to ten Explanation of Benefit (EOB) codes (six ARC codes on the ERA) may be listed for the claim header and each detail line. This section shows only unsatisfied adjustments carried over from the previous financial cycle. An unsatisfied adjustment could occur if, for example, an adjustment on a previous cycle resulted in the provider owing $100.00 to DHW. On the next RA, this adjustment would appear in the previously adjusted claim section of the RA. The $100.00 amount would be indicated in the outstanding balance field.

For each previously adjusted claim the RA displays the adjusted claim payment information along with the previous balance, any moneys applied to the balance, and the remaining balance. If the net remaining balance is a negative amount the number will be printed with a minus sign (-).

4.8 Pharmacy Financial Items on a Paper RA

4.8.1 Overview

The financial items RA section contains provider financial activity for the past week. The cash control number identifying the financial transaction is displayed along with the original account, transactions applied to the account, and any balance amount. For each account, the original, transaction, and balance amounts are shown as positive amounts. Any financial transactions applied against an account are shown immediately below the account. This section is sorted by account number. Lien transactions are included in this section along with a reason code explaining the transaction.

Adjustments made to the amount in the 1099 are shown in the miscellaneous portion of the financial items. These transactions do not have an account number and the only amount shown is the transaction amount. If the adjustment increases the amount in the 1099, the transaction amount is shown as a positive amount. If the adjustment decreases the amount in the 1099, the transaction amount is shown as a negative amount.

Non-claim specific payouts will also display in the Financial Items section of the RA.

A grand total net financial amount is calculated to reflect the net impact of all financial items. Any financial reason codes referenced in this section are also located at the end of the section with a full description of the reason code.

4.8.2 Making Refunds to Medicaid

If a refund to Medicaid is necessary, complete an adjustment request form. Attach a copy of the original claim and a copy of the RA to the adjustment request form. Make refund checks payable to the State of Idaho, DHW, Medicaid. Adjustments may be made electronically. See Section 2.6.1.1 Electronic Claim Void & Replacements for more detail about this process.

Send completed adjustment request forms and refund checks to:

PO Box 23
Boise, ID 83707

4.8.3 Field Descriptions for the Paper RA

Field	Description
PROV	This field indicates the unique number of the provider who is receiving the RA. The provider number consists of two parts. The first 7-digits are the actual unique number assigned to a provider. The last 2-digits indicate the service location. For example, if a provider has two office locations, the primary office location will have 00 as the last 2-digits, and the second location will have 01 as the last 2-digits.
NPI	National Provider Identifier
RA NUM	This field indicates the number of the RA for the provider for the current financial cycle.
RA TITLE	This field indicates the type of RA generated (e.g. Pharmacy).
SEQ NO	This field indicates the RA sequence number for the provider. This field increases by one each time a provider receives an RA. The sequence number is reset at the beginning of each calendar year.
RA DATE	This field indicates the date the RA was generated. This date is typically the Monday following the financial cycle and is equal to the check issue date.
PAGE NUM	The sequence number of this page of the report when compared to the total number of pages for this report.
A/L NUM	This field indicates the number assigned to the provider's accounts ledger entry for tracking the transaction.
CCN	This field indicates the Cash Control Number (CCN) assigned by the system to the financial transaction.

Field	Description
MID	This field indicates the participant's unique Medicaid identification (MID) number, shown ONLY if the financial transaction is related to a specific claim. When the transaction does not relate to a specific claim, the field will be blank. This field is also used in HMO and Gatekeeper capitation payments to indicate the MID number of the person for whom the payment is made.
NPI	National Provider Identifier
ICN	The Internal Control Number (ICN) of the claim is shown if the financial transaction is related to a specific claim. When the transaction does not relate to a specific claim, this field is blank.

4.9 Pharmacy Paper RA Earnings Section

4.9.1 Overview

The Remittance Advice Earnings section of the paper RA contains a summary of provider earnings, both current and year to date. This section includes claim counts, warrant information, and earnings data. This information is calculated per provider and is not separated by service location. A list of Explanation of Benefit (EOB) codes and descriptions, for all claims and adjustments referencing an EOB in other sections of the RA are reported in numerical order at the end of this section.

4.9.2 Field Descriptions for the Paper RA

Field	Description
PROV	This field indicates the unique number of the provider who is receiving the RA. The provider number consists of two parts. The first 7-digits are the actual unique number assigned to a provider. The last 2-digits indicate the service location. For example, if a provider has two office locations, the primary office location will have 00 as the last 2-digits, and the second location will have 01 as the last 2-digits.
NPI	National Provider Identifier
RA NUM	This field indicates the number of the RA for the provider for the current financial cycle.
